

McLaren Vale Shiraz

2019

95 POINTS

James Halliday | The Weekend Australian Magazine

September 2021

A near-perfect illustration of varietal character with eiderdown tannins underlaying a Magimix blend of dark chocolate and blood plum fruit. Generosity is its calling card, and it won't die any time soon. A multipurpose player with food.

95 POINTS

James Halliday | The Weekend Australian Top 100

December 2021

You'd never guess Angove is a recent arrival in McLaren Vale. This is a near-perfect illustration of varietal character with eiderdown tannins underlying a magimix blend of dark chocolate and blood plum fruit. Generosity is its calling card, and it won't die anytime soon.

91 POINTS

James Suckling | jameessuckling.com

October 2021

Dark plums and blackberries with toasted spices and a blueberry edge as well as fragrant fruit and oak spices. The palate has impressive fleshy depth and plenty of fresh red and dark berry flavours. Silky tannins. McLaren Vale drinkability. Drink now.

GOLD MEDAL

Catavinum World Wine & Spirits Competition 2022

February 2022

91 POINTS

The Real Review | Huon Hooke

February 2022

"Deep and youthful red/purple colour. The bouquet is smoky, charry and chocolaty, blackberry joining in on the palate. It's rich and full-bodied, with plenty of tannins but a nice soft texture. A full-bodied, gutsy shiraz that will reward some cellaring. Excellent value!"

SILVER MEDAL

London Wine Competition 2022

April 2022

SILVER MEDAL

Mundus Vini Spring Tasting 2022

February 2022

95 POINTS & GOLD MEDAL

Riverland Wine Show 2021

October 2021