

Cabernet Sauvignon

Sam Kim | Wine Orbit

December 2022 It's splendidly ripe and inviting on the nose showing blackcurrant, thyme, cedary oak and subtle cocoa notes, leading to a wonderfully flavoursome palate that's plump and silky. Beautifully framed by fine chalky tannins, finishing long and delectable. At its best: Now to 2031.

Campbell Mattinson | The Wine Front

January 2023 Solid flavours of red/black cherry and blackcurrant, with quite a deal of gum leaf too. It has enough tannin to shape it but it's otherwise just pure, fresh, even-handed fruit, served with a bit of polish, a bit of softness. It's made as a steak accompaniment and it would be good for that.

Stuart Knox | The Real Review

January 2023 Vibrant purple tones glint through the glass. Ripe blackcurrant and dry herbs on the nose. Palate has sweet black fruits, some graphite savoury tones and a gentle caress of tannins. Not overly complex but there's a pleasure in its simple generosity
