Ripe and smoky bouquet of blackberry and black currant, there's a licorice and plum layer, a moment of tar and marmite then raw sugar and baking spices. Dry with ripe fruit flavours touch the palate first, moderate tannins and acidity add texture and mouthfeel. A balanced even tempered wine with core dark berry and roasted plum flavours, clove and toasty wood qualities. Well made with moderate length, best drinking from 2023 through 2028.

It's fruit forward and attractively expressed on the nose with blackcurrant, tobacco, nutmeg and floral aromas. The palate displays succulent fruit flavours with supple texture and well pitched tannins, making it elegantly flavoursome and immediately appealing. At its best: now to 2029.
