

AIX Rosé

2019

91 POINTS

Natalie Maclean | nataliemaclean.com

November 2020 The 1500ml format is a perfect size for a brunch crowd or Sunday afternoon with a small group of friends on the patio. A bright and fresh patio sipper with ripe strawberry, red berry fruit, melon and white pepper flavours. Creamy on the palate finishing with a kiss of spice and refreshing acidity. Rose food pairings: Roast turkey, roast ham studded with cloves roasted in orange sauce, pork sausage casserole. Terrific turkey wine.

BRONZE MEDAL

New Zealand International Wine Show 2020

September 2020

GOLD MEDAL

AWC Vienna International Wine Challenge 2020

September 2020

Andreas Larrson | Tasting 100% Blind 2020

2020 Bright and pale Rosé colour. Pure, floral and intense nose offering notes of red berries, plum, pink grapefruit and some spicy anise notes. The palate is crisp and youthful with medium body, freshly crushed berry notes with a mild spiciness, zesty notes and a rather long pure finish.

Ross Voss | Wine Enthusiast

2020 This soft, bright and ripe wine is full of red fruits. Acidity is balanced in this wine with a fresh aftertaste and tangy texture. It is rich, generous and ready to drink.

Guide Hachette Des Vins

2020 Beautiful pale pink, peach coloured, delicate nose with notes of reseda. Ample and round palate.

4 STARS • 93 POINTS • WINE OF THE WEEK

Huon Hooke | The Real Review

March 2018 The colour is youthful salmon pink-purple, the aroma sweetly spicy with raspberry and background dried herb nuances. The palate is soft and fruity, flavoursome and charming, with a faint flick of sweetness in harmony with the wine. It finishes clean and dry, with richness and length. An impressive rosé which is drinking at its best now. Food: Baked ocean trout with sage, wrapped in prosciutto.

88 POINTS

Cameron Douglas MS | Camdouglas.com

June 2018 Light fruity, fragrant and fresh with delicate aromas of light red fruits - strawberry and cherry with a light rhubarb note. Light, crisp, dry with flavours of light red cherry, Bing cherry and red apple. Plenty of acidity and a light lees note adding texture and finish. Drink now and through to early 2019

4.5 STARS

Michael Cooper | The Listener

June 2021

From Provence, in south-eastern France, this characterful, light-pink rosé is a blend of traditional grape varieties – mostly grenache, with syrah and cinsaut. Full-bodied, it has lively, peachy, strawberryish, spicy flavours. Strong, dry and smooth.