BY.OTT ROSÉ 2017

VINOUS.COM

Josh Reynolds, Make Way for (Even More) Rosé, August 2018

90 Points

Bright peach skin color. Lively and focused on the nose, displaying fresh citrus fruit and red berry scents and a touch of succulent herbs. Supple and open-knit, showing good heft to its subtly sweet raspberry and tangerine flavors. Tightens up nicely on the silky finish, which leaves a suave floral note behind.

5 Stars & 93 Points

Fresh, elegant and vibrant, this charming wine offers delicate aromas of raspberry, cranberry, rockmelon and floral on the nose, leading to a finely expressed palate that is juicy and lively. Exquisitely expressed, it is light and refreshing with a lingering crisp finish. At its best: now to 2019.

90 Points, 10 Delightful French Rosés to Try

Domaines Ott Côtes De Provence By Ott Rosé 2017 is another great Provencal wine. As one of the pioneering estates in France, Domaines Ott has long been known for producing standout rosés with distinct characters and typicity. James just tasted this one in June and very much enjoyed its freshness and minerality. While it offers a flavorful full body, it still manages to remain well-balanced and bright.
