Berry aromas are ripe but do include herbal accents that are common for Chilean Merlot. An acidic palate is on the lean side, with drawn-in tannins. Tart plum and currant flavors are thin and supported by buttery oak.

Complex and engaging, the wine shows blackberry, tar, smoked game and toasty oak characters together with succulent mouthfeel that's fleshy and persistent. It's well supported by refined mouthfeel and chalky tannins, making it sturdy and structured. At its best: now to 2027.
