It's elegantly scented on the nose, showing green pear, fig, crunchy apple, and jasmine nuances, followed by a splendidly focused palate offering bright fruit flavours with racy acidity, making it crisp-dry and lingering.

Deepening yellow and golden hues lead to a bouquet of peach and sweet citrus peel, there's a saline quality and floral layer with a light leesy complexity. A dry wine on the palate showcasing flavours of stone fruits and some sweet citrus, honeysuckle and yellow flowers, a touch of mineral and a fine lees finish. There's a gentle phenolic set at the back palate adding length. Balanced and well made with best drinking from day of purchase through 2029.
