December 2022 Fantastic bouquet, pure, ripe and fresh with aromas of limeflower and mandarin, fresh green apple and white flowers. Mineral qualities come through on the palate with a fine wet stone and white clay quality, fresh and bright with fruit flavours that reflect the bouquet, fresh white flowers and all synergised with a back bone of acidity. A lovely example with length and purity and best drinking from 2023 through 2033+.

January 2023 Nelson is best known for its aromatic varieties with, in my view, riesling leading the pack thanks to the region's punchy, fruity acidity. This is a classic example. Crisp, dry and refreshing riesling with lime, apricot, orange, green apple and a suggestion of oyster shell/mineral flavour. Bone-dry with punchy acidity. Should develop well with bottle age but is deliciously drinkable now.
